MARIJKE VAN NUNEN AND INTERIORS

Introduction

The recently created Oficios Artesanos homeware and travel line, inspired by Coqui Coqui's lifestyle, showcases accessories and foldable furniture for the home, as well as pieces in suede for heritage travellers and family adventures.

The collection is produced with 100% Mexican fibres and materials such as: pure cotton, sansevieria, suede and wood to celebrate a primitive yet luxurious way of living and travelling. Each product is inspired by beautiful Mexican tradition and culture; the Mayan beliefs, the Franciscan colonial style, the remains of the European vibe combined with the minimalism of modern society - to fulfil the needs and requests of our guests and visitors.

This concept was born, with thanks, from the needs of friends, guests and clients who have experienced and appreciated Coqui Coqui at the beach, in the jungle, walking through colonial little streets, and in the eclectic vibe of the decadent Yucatán's capital.

The hamacas are one of the most significant pieces from the Yucatecan culture: re-inventing the concept of relaxing, in a beautiful and natural way, creating hamacas made of sansevieria with long fringes.

Sansevieria is a plant used by only few remaining artisans who still know and value the technique of making threads from its leaves. Its fibres are strong and durable, becoming softer and more luminous when using it in your daily life. They are produced in a variety of colours including black, chocolate brown, and sand beige and the green-blue colours of the sea.

The Rebozo is worn by all Mexican ladies as a shawl to cover their heads and shoulders or simply to adorn their huipiles. They are originally made in silk and cotton, but to be able to use them as a decorative piece for the bedroom or a useful fine travel blanket, handmade in 100% pure Mexican cotton, we revisited its size and thickness.

OFICIOS ARTESANOS

For the great interest in unique heritage pieces from our guests and friends, we imagined and created a travels & adventures gamuza (suede) line, which includes extra-large travel bags, totes, sports bags as well as a weekend bag; combined with their passport and personal values holders.

Handmade in Valladolid, each product is a combination between style and comfort, as well as being very easy-to-wear, whether that is, at the beach, on a jungle exploration, for a shopping day in the city or to travel to any beautiful destination.

Following this path, we integrated a few portable and folding furniture pieces entirely made in suede and wood: a folding deck chair with its footstool, a folding explorer chair, and lastly a luggage rack.
